EASi Conducts First LS-DYNA User Event in Bangalore

Bangalore, India – Nov 14, 2008 – EASi's Domain Knowledge Institute conducted the first ever LS-DYNA user event in Bangalore on Friday, November 07, 2008. The user event was attended by the LS-DYNA users from various industry segments including Automotive, Aerospace, Heavy Equipment, Light Industrial, etc.

"LS-DYNA user event gives the Indian CAE community the right platform to learn more about cutting edge developments in LS-DYNA. These developments will cultivate productivity improvements and will advance innovations across the LS-DYNA user base" said Ramesh Venkatesan, Head – Technology Support Group (TSG) at EASi.

Dr. Tushar Goel, Senior Scientist at Livermore Software Technology Corporation (LSTC) discussed the latest developments in the LS-DYNA software and various methods for optimum usage of LS-DYNA. He introduced LS-OPT, the latest optimization tool for LS-DYNA, and explained the different methods of optimization using LS-OPT. Using various case studies, Dr. Goel demonstrated the applications of LS-OPT to improve user productivity and achieve substantial cost reductions.
